

The Top 4 Killers of Creation

Are you a creative person?

Do you usually have a lot of ideas floating around in your Universe?

Once you choose to create something, do you then have even more ideas on how to create your other idea? And then more and more and more?

If you've answered yes to any of these question, I'd like to invite you to take a moment and acknowledge you are a creator of magnitude! OK...go! NOW!

When you claim, own and acknowledge your creative capacities, You create the space for more creativity in your life.

Before I began using the tools of Access Consciousness®, I was creating on a much smaller scale and there were times when I totally killed my creations. And, to be completely honest, I could not even acknowledge the potent creator that I am before I began using these tools.

That all began to change when I became aware of the Top 4 Killers of Creation. Being aware of the ways in which we kill our creations is a massive step in moving forward and actualizing phenomenal creations.

What grand and glorious adventure can we have?

The 1st Killer of Creation: Giving Up Your Awareness

Have you ever had an idea that was really light and expansive? An idea that turned on every molecule in your body and being? And then, you went and told someone about it and they didn't get it? They didn't get it so you gave up on it?

How many times have you given up you in favor of someone else's point of view or projection?

When you are a creator, there are not many people who will be able to see what you can see. Since no one else can perceive it, YOU must be the one to create because YOU are the one that can see it. No matter what anyone else says.

The greatest changes that have occurred in history have been because one person chose something different to what everyone else was choosing...One person was aware of a different possibility and they did not care what other people thought!

Where would we be without Ghandi, Martin Luther King, Jr., Rosa Parks, Margaret Thatcher, Winston Churchill, Nelson Mandela and Joan of Ark?

What if you could trust you, your awareness and your creative capacities?

THE COMMITMENT
THAT I MADE
TO ME,
MY LIFE,
AND CONSCIOUSNESS IS TO NOT ALLOW ANYTHING TO STOP ME.

The 2nd Killer of Creation: Judging and Rejecting You

Are you judging your creations? Are you rejecting the whispers of possibility?

Do you have an idea and then immediately go into all the ways in which it won't work?

Do your thoughts, feelings and emotions creep in....

"It's not good enough"

"I'm not good enough"

"No one will like it"

"It's not worth it"

...then all of a sudden, it's dead in the water and your creation is dead.

Judging and rejecting your creations is one of the ways in which you can prove to yourself that you are right about being wrong!

The moment you judge your idea you are literally killing it before you even bring it into existence and in turn you are also judging you and rejecting you!

What is the value of creating these amazing and wonderful things and then smashing them up yourself?

Everywhere you keep choosing to kill your creations to prove to yourself that you are right about being wrong, will you destroy and uncreate that now please?

The 3rd Killer of Creation: The Invalidation of Your Creation

Ok, let's say you've survived the first two killers of creation. You've demanded to create no matter what shows up. There are one major way in which you invalidate your creation and it ends up dying anyway....ready?

You start creating and don't change with your creation! You decide and conclude what it's supposed to be rather than being in the question. You literally invalidate your creations creative energies!

Ideas and creations are whispers of possibilities from consciousness. They have their own energy, consciousness and awareness. Once you pluck that idea from the cosmos, are you allowing it to breathe? Are you allowing it to evolve and change as energy does?

All of the decisions, conclusions and computations you have about your creations will you destroy and uncreate them?

The 4th Killer of Creation: Keeping You A Secret

Are you hiding...you?

Are you hiding the the gift of consciousness you are from everyone and the planet?

Are there places and spaces that you are choosing to kill your creations so that no one will know how amazing you are, how potent, how powerful and how magical you are?

When we kill our creations we are disregarding our Being, so what does the Universe hear and give us more of...just that. We make ourselves irrelevant. We then make it harder for us to create more.

I used to hide behind other people. I would work for other people rather than creating my life and what would be fun for me. I did this for years. Eventually I noticed that in all of my "jobs" I would end up running the company for someone else. I had to really look at my capacities for creation and begin choosing for me and the gift that I am here to be in the world.

Everywhere that you are killing your creations and hiding the gift of you?

Are you ready to stop giving up on you?

Are you ready to stop hiding and making your creations a secret?

Are you ready to be the leader and creator of your own life?

What could you create if you chose beyond the Killers of Creation?

What creations are just waiting for you to say YES to them?

What if it was simply a choice...for you?

Magically yours,

Patty Alfonso
